Present Day Victoria Composite High School — Main Entrance

Vic's 70th.

Four lots donated by the Hudson Bay Company were the site of the first school in Edmonton. Located at 105 Street and 99 Avenue, this school had one room and had one teacher, Mr. Harris.

Although hard to believe, the Victoria Composite High School of today was once a "little red school house." Made of red brick, Victoria High School had only eleven classrooms and one laboratory in 1910. Vic, at this time, had only ten teachers. From 1911 to 1912, Vic was the only high school in Edmonton, but when the cities of Edmonton and Strathcona amalgamated, Strathcona Composite High School became Edmonton's second high school.

During the next few years, the number of students demanding high school education had increased so much that two basement rooms, a library and two science laboratories were added. In 1914, Vic, in a manner of speaking, overflowed. There were so many students enrolled that the commercial section was moved to McDougall Commercial High School where it remained until 1951.

In 1951, the Edmonton Public School Board faced two problems: its overcrowded conditions and its limited number of courses. Consequently, the plans for Victoria Composite High School were approved and the building began to rise. It was situated in the area between the present-day vocational and academic buildings. Business education and industrial arts became a part of the curriculum. Upon the completion of the building, the classes from McDougall returned to Vic. It is also interesting to note that Vic was the first high school in Edmonton to have a swimming pool.

In 1960, the Federal government passed a bill called the Technical and Vocational Act. This was introduced after a survey was taken which showed that many students withdrew from high school before graduation owing to a lack of technical facilities. This insufficiency resulted in many unskilled and unemployed workers in Canada.

The Edmonton Public School Board received a grant to build a vocational school. The red brick Vic came down and Victoria Vocational High School and Victoria Composite High School were to be two separate schools although there would be an interchange of students.

They remained separated until July 1, 1965. The two high schools then amalgamated to form a greater Victoria Composite High School.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Once again I have the pleasant duty of writing the principal's message for the yearbook. After having spent an interesting and thoroughly enjoyable 1979-80 school year, the 1980-81 school year, has been more enjoyable mainly because we have seen our proposed goals and objectives met.

I feel that the environment at Victoria Composite High School has improved tremendously, school spirit has increased, students have a better attitude about the school and about themselves, staff members are teaching in a highly acceptable fashion, and from all reports most parents are pleased with the overall operation of the school.

We hope to continue in the same manner as we have in the past two years, and that our goals and objectives will be accomplished at the end of the 1980-81 school year.

It is extremely gratifying to work with the students and staff at Victoria Composite High School.

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you,
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired of waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wily:

If you can dream — and not make dreams your masters;
If you can think — and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tools:

If you can make one heap of all your winnings;
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after the close day,
And to hold on when the victory seems won,
Except the Will which says to them: "Hold on!"

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings — nor lose the common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And — which is more — you'll be a Man, my son!

REFLECTING ON THE YEARS

For the past two years, it has been my privilege being the advisor to a very fine group of people, the Yearbook staff. Many times this year I would stop in after school, Saturdays and even on holidays; there would be the Yearbook Office humming with activity — typing, laying out pages, cropping pictures, etc. The photographers would be off in one of the photo labs developing film and prints.

The editors are to be commended for the professional manner with which they organized, scheduled, delegated, bargained with the Yearbook representatives, and in spite of many obstacles, met every deadline. The assistant editors deserve a pat on the back for the enthusiastic way they pitched in and the nice job they did on everything that was asked of them. The photographers are also deserving of a sincere thank you for being on top of things and the excellent workmanship they contributed.

During my stay at Victoria Composite I have not met a nicer and more dedicated group of students than this Yearbook staff. In addition to the high academic standings they have achieved, they willingly gave many hours to this project. The high standards they strived for made themselves apparent in this book.

I am sure I speak for staff and students when saying "Thank you very much for a job well done."

Sincerely,
Mr. Ed S. Klemm
Advisor

Through the trials and tribulations of school and school work, one learns to play the cards that have been dealt in life and with every effort, make the most of them. We've learnt not only the basic school subjects and trades but how to get along in society. We've learnt how to stand blows that would have otherwise broken our spirits. Some of us will achieve our goals and some of us will stumble. Some of us will become someone useful in life and some will become politicians (just kidding).

A Vic student should never be underestimated. He's got pride and spirit. And for me, nothing could have replaced school and seeing my friends everyday, whether it was a good day or not . . . except a paid vacation in Hawaii.

I hope you enjoy this yearbook and may it bring back memories when you look at it again years from now.

Sincerely,

Hazel Mah

Co-Editor

Through the many hours devoted to the production of this yearbook, each Victorian is proud to be part of this accomplishment. It has been both an educational and an enjoyable experience; learning to get along, mastering the fine art of patience, remaining calm and collective (most of the time) while in the midst of a nervous breakdown, compromising with each other, being prepared for all situations, standing up for our rights, and of course, drawing up the most precise contracts. The time spent in yearbook compared with the knowledge gained is something I, myself, cannot and will not regret or forget for a long time to come.

This year's theme, "Just the Way You Are", is much more than a great song. It suggests more to a friendship than having to change your ways just to meet a friend's "standards". Unless you realize the reasons why YOU want to change, there is very little, if any, purpose in changing your ways. A true friend is a friend who will take you "Just the Way You Are" nothing less and nothing more.

To the graduates of 1981, this yearbook will be one of the few tangible objects you will be taking with you as each one of us goes our separate ways. May the memories of your final year at Vic be revived through this yearbook. I give my sincere wishes for all the very best in all your future endeavours.

And to the future grads, may this mark the beginning of a memorable stay at Vic, and may your future be a happy one.

Sincerely,

Daisie Pon

VIC'S POSTER

By Vin Tu and Lawrence Ireland

1980 VICTORIAN FLOAT

The idea for the 1980 Victorian Float came from a committee which was organized in early April.

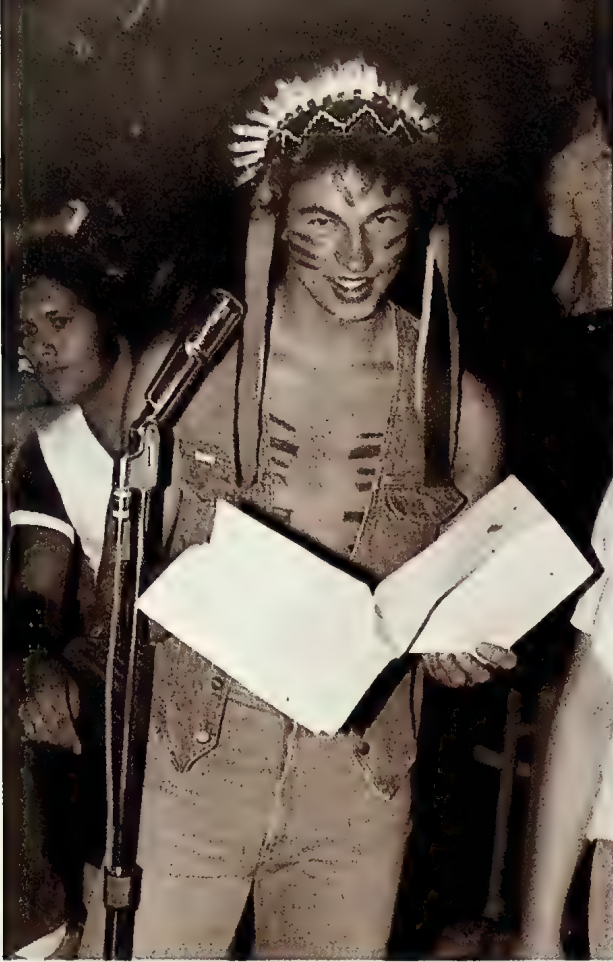

The use of an oil rig signifies the theme of the 1980 Klondike Days Parade, the Alberta 75th Anniversary.

Thanks to Mr. Roy Edwards, the advisor, and his committee for all their time and efforts that were put into the float.

Happily Victoria Composite High School won first place in the youth division and was given a trophy — "BEST ENTRY YOUTH."

2nd ANNUAL

PEP RALLY

Gr. 12, overall winners

"Why me?"

"They say that 75% of all Canadians are unfit."

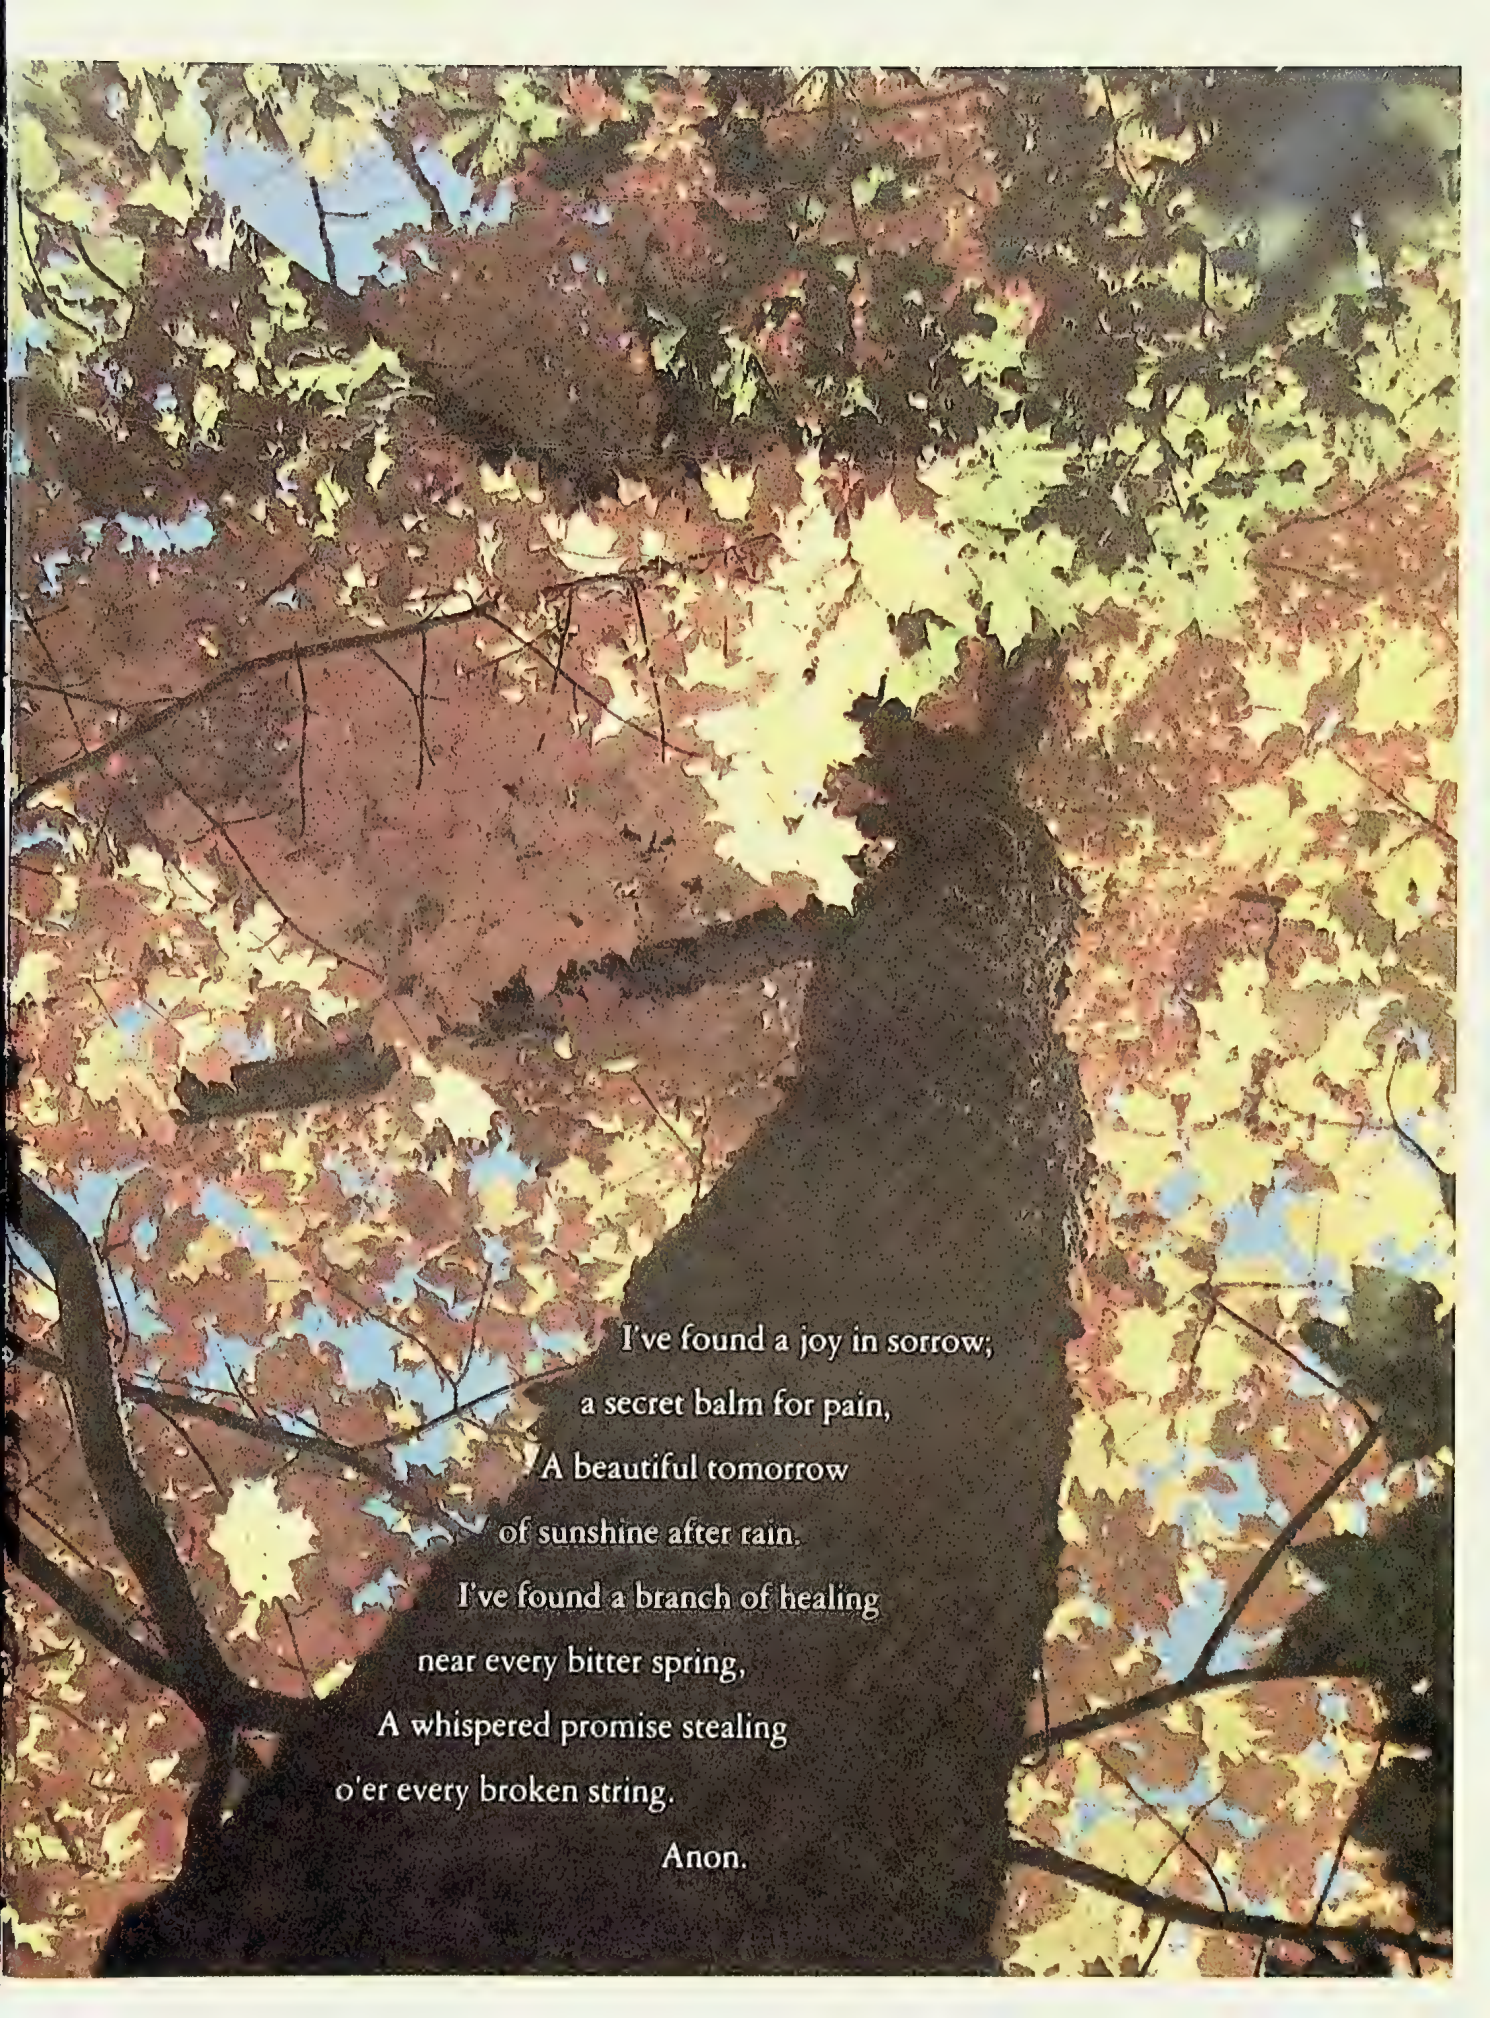

"This is what I call a hang over."

"Oh! I'll give him an 8."

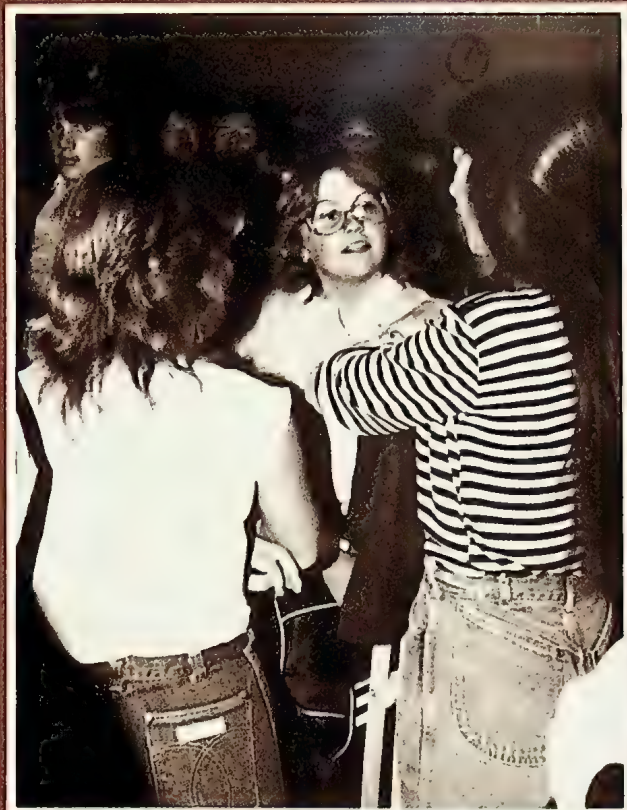

"Quick hide the textbooks, the teacher's coming."

I've found a joy in sorrow;
a secret balm for pain,
A beautiful tomorrow
of sunshine after rain.
I've found a branch of healing
near every bitter spring,
A whispered promise stealing o'er every broken string.

Anon.

YOU ALWAYS HAVE MY
UNSPOKEN PASSION

TO CARE

I DON'T WANT CLEVER

CONVERSATION

I NEVER WANT TO WORK THAT HARD

I JUST WANT SOMEONE THAT I CAN TALK TO

I WANT YOU

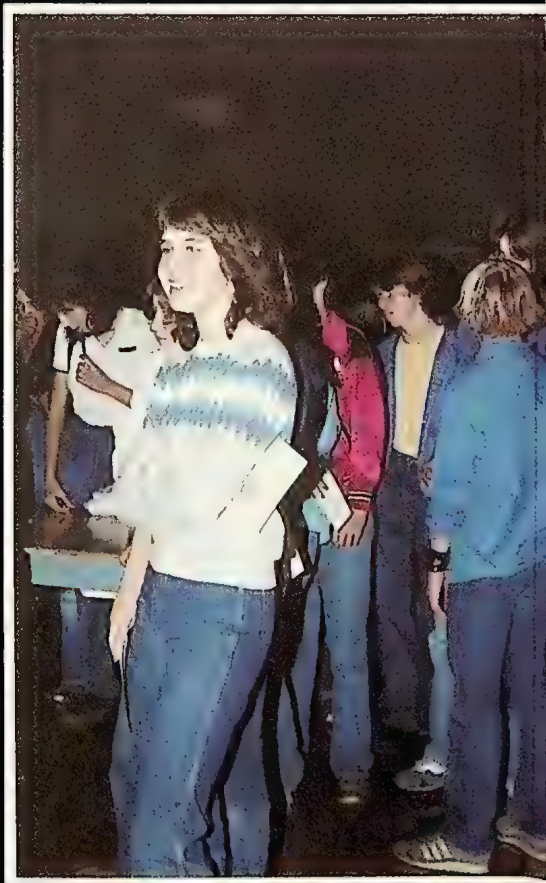

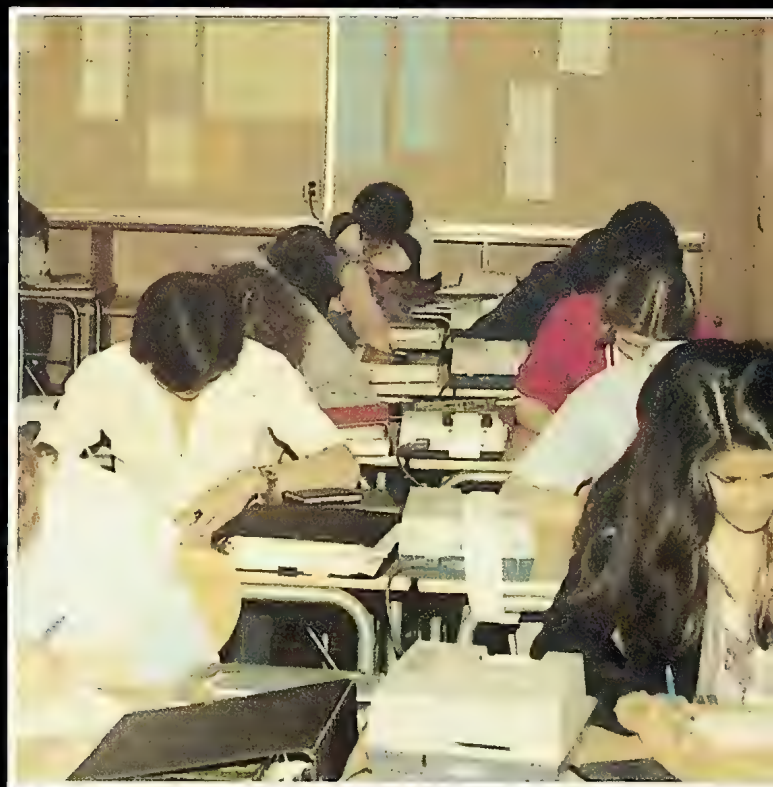

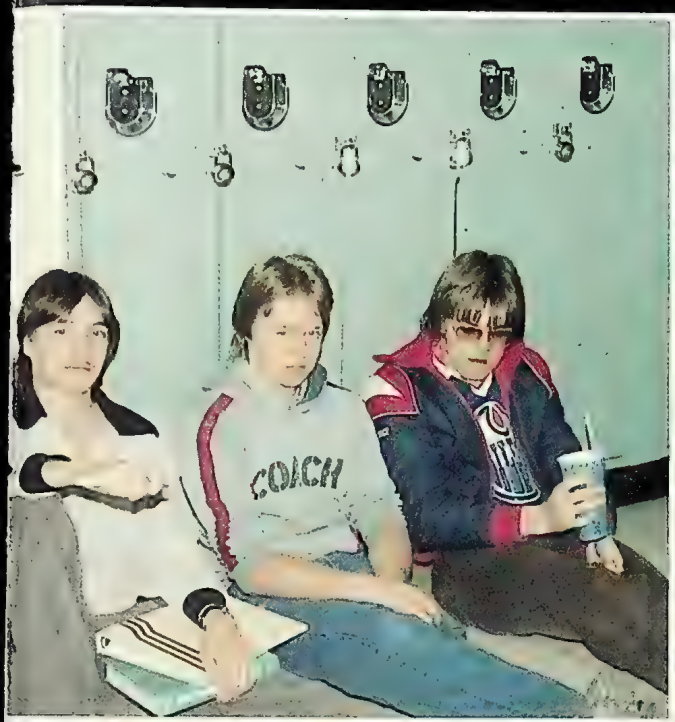

JUST THE WAY YOU ARE

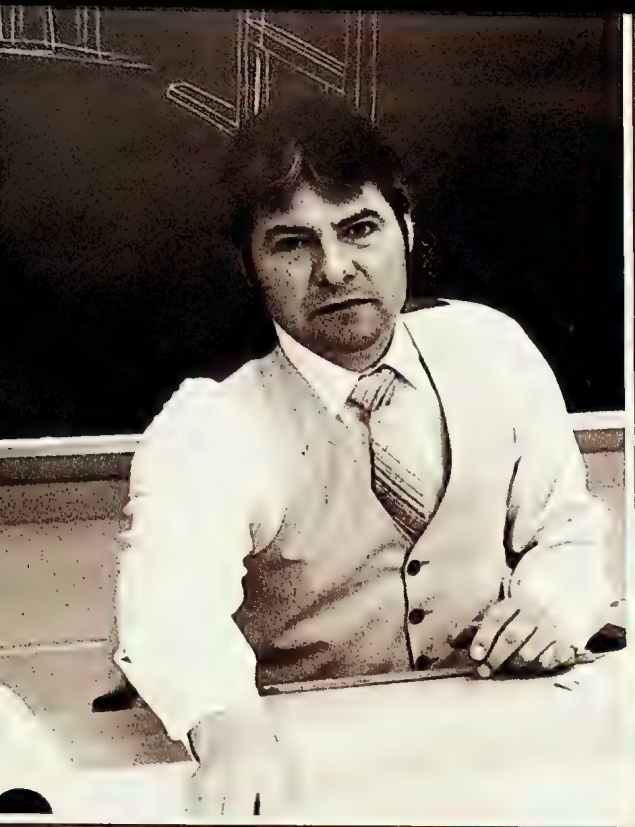

I NEED TO KNOW THAT YOU WILL

ALWAYS BE

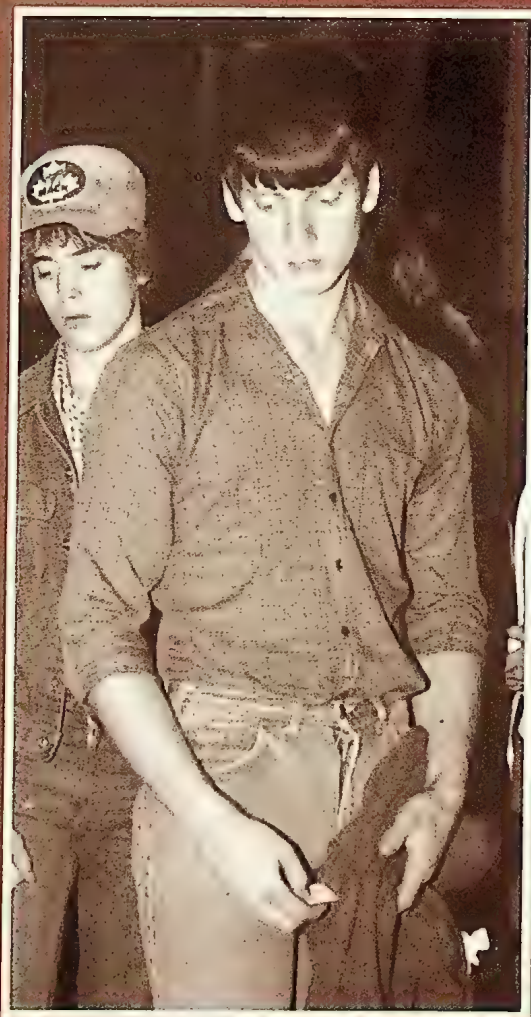

THE SAME OLD SOMEONE THAT I KNEW

OH WHAT WILL IT TAKE
TILL YOU BELIEVE IN ME

THE WAY THAT I BELIEVE IN YOU

JUST THE WAY YOU ARE

Don't go changing to try and please me
You never let me down before
Don't imagine you're too familiar
And I don't see you anymore
I would not leave you in times of trouble
We never could have come this far
I took the good times, I'll take the bad times
I'll take you just the way you are.

Don't go trying some new fashion
Don't change the color of your hair
You always have my unspoken passion
Although I might not seem to care
I don't want clever conversation
I never want to work that hard
I just want someone that I can talk to
I want you just the way you are.

I need to know that you will always be
The same old someone that I knew
Oh what will it take till you believe in me
The way that I believe in you.

I said I love you and that's forever
And this I promise from the heart
I could not love you any better
I love you just the way you are.

I don't want clever conversation
I never want to work that hard
I just want someone that I can talk to
I want you just the way you are.
